PUBLIC HEARINGS

9. COLD SPRING BRIDGE PROJECT

A. Hold a public hearing on Caltrans' Cold Spring Bridge Suicide Barrier project

B. Provide direction to staff

Dr. Lisa Firestone of the Glendon Association made a presentation in support of the project. She presented an excerpt from a video entitled "Voices of Suicide – learning from those who lived". She noted that peer review journals say barriers reduce suicide and mental health studies support barriers for suicide prevention. She also addressed the objections that were presented by the opponents to the placement of the barriers on the bridge.

Santa Barbara County Sheriff Bill Brown spoke in favor of the barrier plan for the Cold Spring Bridge, he also spoke about the unsafe conditions the current barrier presents for the public safety personnel that respond to emergencies and the costs of responding to suicide calls. He played a video which showed an emergency responder almost being pulled over the bridge while attempting a rescue during a suicide attempt. He also presented video testimony of a Sheriff's Deputy who witnessed a suicide at the bridge. He suggested putting call boxes as well as barriers on the bridge.

Marc McGinnes, Friends of the Bridge, expressed opposition to the placement of the barriers on the Cold Spring Bridge. Friends of the Bridge feel that the barriers will take away the beauty of the bridge; he also noted the money coming from the Caltrans Traffic Safety Collision Reduction fund shouldn't be used for suicide prevention. Mr. McGinnes proposed and described a "human barrier" alternative to the Caltrans barriers project.

Chair Firestone asked Mr. McGinnes to read into the record the names of the other citizens groups opposing the Cold Spring Bridge project who had written letters. He identified the following organizations:

1. Citizens Planning Association South County Land Use Committee
2. Concerned Taxpayers Action Network
3. Los Padres Chapter of the Sierra Club
4. Los Padres Forest Watch
5. Santa Barbara Trust for Historic Preservation
6. Santa Barbara County Action Network
7. Women's Environmental Watch
8. Santa Ynez Valley Alliance
9. The Pearl Chase Society

Marc McGinnes stated that a letter from the Santa Barbara County Taxpayers Association was included in opposition to the project but since the ongoing politics had been so intense the association changed its position to neutral.

Councilmember Armendariz rejected the characterization of the reversal of their position. Mr. Armendriz stated that the decision was made by the Board of Directors based on coming to the conclusion that at that particular time they lacked the sufficient facts to make a declarative position on the issue. The decision was not based on politics, it was based on the best effort of the Board of Directors to interpret the information that was presented. The information has now been called into question in a variety of different ways and that was the reason behind the decision.

Walton Clark, resident, supports the barriers project.

Nelson Trichler, Search and Rescue team, expressed concern about safety of the personnel that go in to retrieve bodies and spoke in support of the barrier.

Garrett Glasgow, addressed the misconceptions about the scientific literature on suicide barriers. He said he was not sure if barriers save lives or not. He also commented that call boxes have not been studied in regards to saving lives.

Motion to find that the proposed 99 room hotel in the approach zone, with revised findings, is consistent with the ALUP.

Motion: Bennett

Second: Armendariz

The board was informed by counsel that if the board took no action on the project's consistency or inconsistency with the ALUP within 60 days after the matter had been referred to SBCAG then, by State law, the project would be deemed to be in compliance with the ALUP.

Motion withdrawn by Mayor Bennett. No action taken by the board.
